

ANIMALS

Play With a Cat Over the Internet

Cats and the internet: They go together like peanut butter and jelly. But until now, we could only enjoy online cats in the most passive of ways. No more! Thanks to the iPet Companion, you can control robotic cat toys at humane shelters around the country with the click of a computerized mouse! You can even move the camera around. It's really fun!

Until you remember that these cute little kitties are trapped in some lonely humane shelter, with no real human contact. Just robot cat toys, and someone like you, unseen and far away, who'll probably get bored of them in a few minutes and move on to the next link you see on Facebook.

Oh, but whatever. Go play with the kitties. [ipetcompanion.com, Photo via canibesaturdaynow.com]

RELATED STORIES

- Massively Hung Squirrel Ruins Nationally Televised Bake-Off
- Cops Shut Down Highway to Protect Sacred Rabbit
- Dolphin Sex Memoirist: Genetic Engineering to Create Animorph Sex Fiends

BY SETH ABRAMOVITCH

OCT 7, 2011 12:56 AM

Share

+1

Like

89

7,142 25